

UNCLASSIFIED

Unified Course '05 (UC05)

Information Paper

Introduction. Unified Course (UC) 05 is a co-sponsored Navy Warfare Development Command and United States Joint Forces Command Title X war game. UC05 will be conducted at Newport, RI on 24-28 October 2005.

Background. UC05 will address a 2015 seabasing scenario with emphasis on flowing two Brigades thru a Sea Base. In addition, UC05 will explore a variety of higher-level staff organizational and functional issues of interest to JFCOM and will not go beyond JFEO. Major Combat Operations (MCO) and Security and Stability Operations (SASO) in the same scenario will be addressed the following year in UC06.

Game Objective.

Research, analyze and game requirements and tradeoffs of a joint sea base to support an opposed projection of a brigade sized force from strategic distances

USMC Objective.

Research, Analyze, and Game the ability of the 2015 + Global Force Posture and seabasing to support the deployment, employment and sustainment of Forcible Entry Operations against both Traditional and Irregular Threats

USMC Participants. Wargaming Division will require Marine subject matter expert support for all UC05 pathway events and for Game Week. Personnel requirements will be identified through separate correspondence

Key Pathway Events/Dates.

5-7 Oct 04	IPC
26-27 Jan	Game Design Workshop
15-17 March	JWARS CONOPS Planning
5-8 April	MPC
13-17 June	Tentative STAFFEX I
26-29 June	Tentative STAFFEX II
9-11 Aug	FPC
12-16 Sept	Tentative STAFFEX III
23-28 Oct	UC05
Oct	SLS

Website Information.

More information can be located on our Wargaming site <http://www.wargaming.quantico.usmc.mil/TitleX/USN/index.asp> and on the Naval War College's website <https://nwcportal.nwc.navy.mil/wgd>
Please call NWC for access
(401)-841-2353

Contact Information.

USMC AO, Wargaming, MCWL
DSN 278-6884, (703) 784-6884/3277

USMC M&S, Wargaming, MCWL
DSN 378-4627, (703) 432-4627/3277